Management Discussion of Fund Performance

Results of Operations

For the six-month period ended June 30, 2011, the Altamira Science and Technology Fund Investor Series units returned 0.37% compared to -0.86% for the Fund's blended benchmark index composed of 10% of the MSCI World Health Care Index (CA$) (return of 9.72%) and 90% of the MSCI World Information Technology Index (CA$) (return of -2.00%). Unlike these indexes, the Fund's performance is calculated after fees and expenses. Please see the Past Performance section for returns of the Advisor Series. Returns of the Advisor Series may vary mainly because of fees and expenses.

Global equities swung in both directions during the first half of the year, rising early on expectations of a global economic and earnings recovery but pressured lower later by a number of factors that included political unrest in the Middle East and North Africa, a triple disaster (earthquake, tsunami and nuclear meltdown) in Japan and last but not least, an increased probability of defaults in Europe.

After rising during January and February, stocks sunk deep into the red during March, following the Tohoku earthquake in Japan. However, most global stock indices managed to rally back from oversold levels during April, as investors became convinced that the quake's impact on the global supply chain will be limited. Late in the period, uncertainty related to European debt seeped back into the markets temporarily, but lifted shortly thereafter, following the adoption of austerity measures in Greece that led to a relief rally that sent most indices to end the period higher.

During this time, the global Health Care sector benefited from the increased market and economic uncertainty, given its defensive nature and posted the best performance of all ten sectors. For its part, the Technology sector succumbed to selling pressure, given its sensitivity to the economic situation and posted one of the worst sector performances.

Under these circumstances, the Fund outperformed its benchmark, mainly as a result of security selection within the Technology sector, but was also helped by the slight overweight in the Health Care sector. Within the Technology sector, IBM, Accenture, EMC, EBay and Dell added the most value, while Nokia, Hewlett Packard, Corning and Research in Motion detracted the most. Within Health Care, the Fund benefited from a significant underweight in Switzerland which contributed 2.05% of value and a notable overweight in Israel, which returned +28% versus the benchmark return of -3%.

Recent Developments

During the first half, the portfolio manager repositioned the Fund somewhat more defensively by selling high beta (riskier) stocks and reallocating the proceeds into low beta issues. In this respect, positions in Brother Industries, Hitachi, Research in Motion, Hewlett Packard, LAM Research, ST Microelectronics, Qualcomm and Tencent Holdings were sold. Alternatively, new positions in Alliance Data Systems, Ericsson, ASML, AVNET, Check Point Technology, Infineon Technology and Microsoft were added.

Going into the second half of 2011, the portfolio manager believes that most world economies are currently experiencing an economic soft patch. Should this situation prove transitional, he stands ready to increase the Fund's exposure to higher beta (riskier) companies, in order to allow it to outperform. The Fund is significantly overweight in North America, especially in the U.S. and a commensurate underweight in Europe. Overall, preference is continuing to be allocated to quality companies that are able to generate high levels of free cash flow and possess attractive valuation, two metrics that the portfolio manager will provide the best margin of safety.

The portfolio manager believes that developments relating to the situation in Europe, the potential of a Chinese economic slowdown coupled with an unstable employment situation and housing market in the U.S. could have an impact on the value of the Fund. Should investors outlook become more sanguine (due to strong earnings and improved economic outlook) with regard to a global resurgence in activity, the Fund may temporarily lag during this brief period of consolidation.

Future Accounting Standards

In February 2008, the Canadian Accounting Standards Board ("AcSB") confirmed that all publicly accountable enterprises would be required to report under International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRS") as published by the International Accounting Standards Board ("IASB") for fiscal years beginning on or after January 1, 2011. However, in January 2011, the AcSB approved a deferral of the effective date of entry in force of IFRS from January 1, 2011 to January 1, 2013 for investment companies that are currently applying Accounting Guideline AcG-18, "Investment Companies".

The deferral of the transition date to IFRS has been put in place to ensure that investment companies will not have to modify their actual accounting treatment for entities in which they have control while the IASB is completing the standard about investment companies.

Consequently, the Funds will publish their first audited financial statements in accordance with IFRS for the year ended

December 31, 2013 and will present comparative figures in accordance with IFRS for the year ended December 31, 2012, including an opening balance sheet as at January 1, 2012.

Given the deferral of the effective transition date to IFRS, management is closely monitoring the evolution of the standards and is adjusting its project consequently. In the periods preceding the first fiscal year in which IFRS will be adopted, the impact of transitioning to IFRS on the financial statements of the Funds will be disclosed as they become known.

⁽²⁾ Management expense ratio is based on total expenses for the period indicated (excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs) and is expressed as an annualized percentage of the daily average net asset value during the period.

⁽³⁾ The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the period.

⁽⁴⁾ The Fund's portfolio's turnover rate indicates how actively the Fund's portfolio adviser manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the period. The higher a Fund's portfolio turnover rate in a year, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund in the period, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the period. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high turnover rate and the performance of a fund.

Management Fees

The Fund pays annual management fees to the Manager for its management services. The fees are calculated based on a percentage of the Fund's daily net asset value before applicable taxes and are paid on a monthly basis. A portion of the management fees paid by the Fund covers trailer fees and sales commissions paid to brokers. The remainder of the management fees primarily cover investment management and general administration services. The breakdown of major services provided in consideration of the management fees, expressed as an approximate percentage of the management fees is as follows:

Series		Management Fee	Distribution	Others [†]
Investor Series		2.00%	12.50%	87.50%
Advisor Series*	Front end	2.00%	25.00%	75.00%

			50.00%	50.00%

^(*) Excluding sales commissions paid on the Advisor Series with low load and back end fees, which are not paid for out of the management fees.

^(†) Includes all costs related to management, investment advisory services, general administration and profit.

Past Performance

Information on the Fund's past performance is presented in the graphs below. The graphs assume that fund distributions during the periods presented were reinvested in full in additional fund securities and do not take into account sales, redemption charges, distributions, or optional charges that would have reduced returns. Past performance of a Fund or series of a Fund does not necessarily indicate how it will perform in the future.
