Our 2017 Social Responsibility Report
In 2017, National Bank reached new milestones in helping its clients, employees and the different communities it serves to navigate the evolving business environment and played an active leadership role in promoting innovation, social development, entrepreneurship and diversity. Here’s some of the work we’ve done in these areas over the past year.

The Digital Economy
Innovation and knowledge are two important aspects in today’s industrial revolution. That’s why National Bank fosters partnerships with local players from promising technology sectors, including artificial intelligence solutions provider Element AI. Through our activities, we’re continuing to refine our products and services in step with the changes transforming the banking industry. Our new mobile solutions provide greater flexibility for routine transactions, while our redesigned branches leverage our teams’ expertise to offer clients personalized service.

Entrepreneurial Growth
National Bank has always been a partner to entrepreneurs. It recognizes the importance of small and medium-sized enterprises in our economy, and provides them with products and services geared to their needs. We do everything in our power to deliver the best solutions to the business community. In 2017, we expanded our digital offering, most notably with the launch of the mobile app for business clients. Year after year, the Bank backs numerous projects to boost entrepreneurship and support the business community nationwide, as reflected in its partnership with the Ubisoft Indie Series, among others.

Sustainable Practices
We’re pursuing our energy efficiency efforts and fine-tuning the practices for which we’ve been recognized over the years and received several accolades. We’re also working on optimally managing our ecological footprint through various concrete actions. With sustainable development and workplace wellness in mind, we’re advancing our design standards to adopt the most innovative ways of working. This mindset will also serve as a guide as we undertake the construction of our new head office in Montreal.

Diversity and Inclusion
A balanced company reflects the social fabric of its community. Because the Bank is aware of this imperative, its initiatives to promote diversity in the workplace are multiplying. We continually seek the best ways to encourage the advancement of all employees at all levels. The Parity Certification from Women in Governance underscores the positive impact of our programs.

These examples speak to the Bank’s contribution to the community. Last year, National Bank paid $788 million in income and other taxes, purchased $1 billion worth of goods and services, injected more than $88 million into its facilities and invested some $25 million in employee development. Together with the help of our employees, retired employees and clients, we were able to give back $25 million to communities across the country. At National Bank, our commitment to governance and to environmental and social responsibility is rooted in collaboration. This is how we play a part in our collective prosperity.

Helping our clients power their ideas

Investing in digital solutions
The Bank continued to modernize its systems, simplify processes and improve its multichannel offering to be even more aligned with its clients’ needs.

Revitalizing our branch network

The Bank pursued its branch improvement projects in 2017 with investments in excess of $9 million. In all, 10 major upgrade projects were carried out. Steps were also taken to meet specific needs in over 285 branches. Moreover, the Bank continued to implement various initiatives to further integrate its physical and digital networks.

> The Bank finalized the rollout of its new generation banking machines. Available at all our branches, the new ABMs offer an intuitive interface for easier navigation and new features.

> To serve its clients better, the Bank has redesigned the layout of its branches. This new branch design concept, which offers an optimized customer experience based on technology and advisory services, is being gradually integrated in the branch network. In 2017, it was rolled out in Montreal on Drummond Street, as well as in Saint-Hyacinthe and Beauharnois. Many more branches will be redesigned in the coming fiscal year.

Consolidating our presence coast to coast

National Bank Financial – Wealth Management (NBFWM) continued its cross-country expansion by setting up retail banking resources in close proximity to its Edmonton and Halifax offices. With this approach, clients can benefit from a complete offering of banking and investment services, all under one roof.

Leading-edge solutions and advice

We want to help our clients make the best possible financial decisions. In 2017, we continued to develop tools and services to that end.

> National Bank has taken a strategic $6 million minority stake in Nest Wealth, a leading fintech in the world of investment, and signed a commercial agreement with the company. Under the agreement, the Bank will use Nest Wealth’s state-of-the-art technology to improve its internal investment platforms and, in turn, its client offering.

> National Bank Investments continued to develop its open architecture platform by establishing new partnerships to help Canadian investors benefit from the best investment opportunities and the many advantages of this portfolio management approach.

> In 2017, the Bank finalized its implementation of the new Client Relationship Model (CRM2) to comply with regulations applicable to advisors and wealth management firms.

> For a second consecutive year, National Bank Direct Brokerage (NBDB) made a major change to online brokerage services. After introducing commission-free exchange-traded funds (ETFs) listed in Canada in 2016, NBDB responded to independent investors’ interest for this type of product by extending this fee positioning to U.S.-listed ETFs and making online investing even more accessible.

> On its financial literacy website ideas.nationalbank.ca, National Bank posts articles on a host of topics related to personal finances. In 2017, the Bank published an exclusive series of articles geared to millennials to mark Financial Literacy Month.
A comprehensive offer for newcomers to Canada

Because it continuously strives to better meet the specific needs of newcomers to Canada, the Bank has created a comprehensive and tailored offering.

> A transactional services package with conditions that are valid for three years.

> HelloCanada telephone assistance service, free for 12 months, providing information about a host of topics related to immigration.

> Access to credit cards to help build a credit history in Canada.

> New financing products designed to make it easier to buy property or a car.

Thanks to partnerships with various not-for-profit organizations, the Bank also helps newcomers get acquainted with the Canadian banking system. Maintaining close ties with our business clients

National Bank is well-known for the strong ties it has forged over the years with its business clients. Entrepreneurs can count on our highly qualified advisors to guide them through every stage of their development and on products and services that make managing their business easier.

In fiscal 2017, the Bank launched a number of initiatives to expand its offering for SMEs, particularly in terms of mobile services.

National Bank invited entrepreneurs involved in the digital revolution to its cutting-edge business get-togethers at NB CAMP, an initiative that illustrates the Bank’s desire to help entrepreneurs face a shifting competitive environment. In 2017, the NB CAMP was held in Montreal, Calgary, Toronto and Quebec City.
Offering specialized services

Over the past fiscal year, the Bank further tailored its selection of financial solutions to its clients’ specific fields of activity. Our experts can offer specialized support and solutions to businesses in a wide range of sectors, such as agriculture, real estate, health and technology, as well as television and film, to name a few.

National Bank also serves a number of not-for-profit organizations, offering them preferred rates on financial solutions and a variety of support services, including assistance with planned giving development.

Supporting entrepreneurship

SMEs play a key role in our economic vitality. To foster their growth, National Bank has been supporting myriad projects and organizations dedicated to helping entrepreneurs. In 2017, the Bank partnered with Startupfest Montreal, the largest event of its kind in the country, and the Ubisoft Indie Series, an annual competition for Canadian independent game development studios.

> Factry
> Ulule
> École d’Entrepreneurship de Beauce
> New Brunswick Community College’s Oasis Program
> Wilfrid Laurier University’s LaunchPad program

Listening to our clients

For a number of years now, National Bank has measured the effectiveness and competitiveness of its products and services as well as the quality of the client experience. Over the past year, a specialized external firm surveyed more than 130,000 of the Bank’s retail and business clients. This exercise gives the Bank clearer insight into what clients want and expect so that it can better meet their needs. The results of such surveys are analyzed and integrated into the Bank’s business plans, in keeping with the continuous improvement approach adopted by the entire organization.

Handling complaints

National Bank has a simple and accessible complaint settlement process that focuses on finding solutions. It encourages employees to handle and address complaints and supports them in this regard.

Through the Office of the Ombudsman for Clients, clients have an independent and impartial recourse for complaints not settled to their satisfaction. The Office of the Ombudsman partners with specialists from all areas to promote a collaborative approach among the parties involved and methods adapted to each specific situation.

Each year, the Office of the Ombudsman publishes data on the complaints handled over the past year. This information, as well as the Charter of the Office of the Ombudsman for Clients, is available on the Bank’s website.

Engaging conversation on social networks

The Bank’s daily presence on social networking sites has meant increased opportunities for interaction with clients and interest groups alike.
WORKING TOGETHER TO REACH OUR FULL POTENTIAL

One of the largest employers in Quebec and Canada, National Bank considers its employees to be a vital part of its success. Their talent and commitment are two of the organization’s greatest assets.

Listening to our employees and providing a stimulating environment where they can reach their full potential is therefore a priority for the Bank. We believe that this is the best way to build engaged, knowledgeable teams who are empowered to deliver a distinctive client experience.

Always in tune with our employees

For National Bank, maintaining a stimulating work environment and a modern employee experience that fosters collaboration, mobility and autonomy is essential. Listening to our employees by conducting surveys to measure their engagement and offering programs that support a healthy workplace is therefore important.

National Bank has been promoting employee wellness since 2006 through its My Health: My Wealth! Program, which encourages employees to look after their physical and mental well-being by providing them with information, tools and resources to adopt healthy lifestyles.

National Bank also offers confidential professional support to employees and their loved ones who are coping with difficulties in their personal lives through its Employee and Family Assistance Program (EFAP). The EFAP also provides counselling services for managers to help them deal with sensitive and emotionally difficult situations they may face in their management role.

Moreover, in 1980, National Bank became the first company in Quebec to make a workplace daycare available to its employees. Our Voûte enchantée daycare offers fun and educational programs to its young charges.

National Tour – Succeeding Together

The National Tour is an initiative launched in 2014 that allows members of management and employees to discuss the Bank’s priorities in an informal and friendly setting. The program’s various activities encourage employees to contribute to the organization’s development.
Maintaining a dialogue with our employees

Keeping employees well informed and addressing their concerns on the business vision and changes underway in the organization has always been a priority for senior management. Every year, members of the Office of the President take time to meet with hundreds of employees across all line levels and all regions where the Bank is present.

We periodically carry out various confidential surveys to help us better understand our employees and managers, foster dialogue with them and get their points of view about different aspects of their work life. This feedback enables us to continually enhance the Bank’s practices and offer a superior employee experience, which helps us carry out our One client, one bank vision.

Settling disputes with respect

National Bank has established an Employee Ombudsman’s Office to help settle any disputes employees may have at work and deal with situations reported by employees while protecting their anonymity when necessary. The Employee Ombudsman’s Office (EOO) is made up of professionals who abide by a strict code of ethics and adhere to standards governing impartiality and confidentiality. Their role is to encourage dialogue between parties involved and serve as advisors and facilitators. The EOO reports directly to the President and Chief Executive Officer.

A changing corporate culture

National Bank’s organizational culture is changing. Many initiatives have been launched to support collaboration and connectivity and accelerate our capacity to effect corporate change at head office, in the different units and in the branch network. Our strategy focuses on four intertwined areas:

- Transition to a way of executing and organizing work in networks, with a focus on autonomous, agile, multidisciplinary teams.
- Teams guided by leaders acting as coaches who trust and empower employees.
- Creation of an ecosystem that maximizes social learning and lets employees advance in many ways.
- Work tools and environment that have been rethought, are more modern and dynamic (spaces for collaboration, concentration and discussion) and that promote teamwork and mobility. In 2017, five floors of the National Bank Tower were redesigned accordingly, with others to follow in the coming years. A number of communication and collaboration tools (SharePoint, OneDrive, Yammer, Skype for Business conferencing) were rolled out.
Embracing diversity

National Bank sees diversity as a tremendous source of wealth and is committed to promoting it within all business units. Since the Bank values diversity in all forms, its objective is to offer an open and respectful work environment where all employees can achieve their full potential, regardless of their differences. Support from management, through the activities of the diversity committee, helps spread this value across all sectors in the organization.

The key objectives of the Bank’s three-year plan are adopting inclusive human resources practices, creating internal networks, establishing partnerships with various organizations and forming a diversity committee representing all of the Bank’s sectors.

The Bank holds a certificate from Emploi Québec in recognition of its quality training initiatives and stands out for the quality of its development program. Our training is geared to the needs of our different groups of employees. A mentor program is also available to senior managers and employees with strong potential for development within the company to help them strengthen their management and leadership skills.

Each business sector has its own development strategy that reflects the specific market- and transformation-related challenges it faces. In this way, the Bank ensures that its employees continue to build relevant expertise and keep up to date with industry trends.

A leading player in the country’s economy since 1859, National Bank is committed to promoting the well-being of the communities it serves. The Bank is always attentive to its employees, clients and partners in order to understand their expectations and better meet their needs.

The Bank succeeds in doing this through a well-defined donations and sponsorships program, the commitment of its employees and retirees who are volunteers in their communities as well as successful fundraising efforts with our clients’ participation.

Community engagement

Every year, through its donations and sponsorships, the Bank supports hundreds of Canadian organizations in the sectors of entrepreneurship, education, health, sport, art and culture, as well as community outreach. The recipient organizations are selected in accordance with strict guidelines to ensure that each request is given due consideration with a view to being as equitable as possible and maximizing the benefits of our community giving.

HELPING PROTECT THE ENVIRONMENT

National Bank is concerned by society’s impact on the environment, particularly the effects of climate change. That’s why we’re actively involved in implementing various initiatives to reduce our environmental footprint.

The Bank stands out for the major partnerships it has developed over the years with various organizations and businesses that share its goal of contributing to sustainable social development.

Managing our carbon footprint effectively

National Bank strives to understand and reduce the impact of its activities on the environment as much as possible. We have therefore introduced a variety of voluntary measures for calculating and reducing our greenhouse gas emissions.

Measuring greenhouse gases

The Bank took the first step in managing its carbon footprint in 2007–2008 by measuring its GHG emissions and submitting the data to the Carbon Disclosure Project, an international organization committed to preventing climate change. We have since made it an annual exercise, working in close collaboration with numerous recognized consulting firms to ensure our methods are in line with current best practices.

To support its rigorous GHG inventory process, the Bank recently acquired high-performance tools that allow it to quantify its emissions with greater accuracy.

The Bank’s GHG emissions in fiscal 2016 were estimated at 13,335 tons of CO₂.
Reducing our footprint

Through the use of advanced inventory taking, the Bank is aware of the volume and source of its emissions and is firmly committed to reducing them. To do so, it has taken a series of environmentally responsible actions.

Screening of suppliers’ practices

National Bank continued implementing a process to screen its suppliers’ practices in order to ensure a more sustainable and responsible approach to sourcing. Ultimately, the Bank will be able to assess suppliers’ impact on the environment and society and then use the findings to inform its purchasing decisions.

Obtaining certification for our buildings

The Bank has also garnered recognition for the eco-responsible features of its buildings. It has even aligned its design standards with LEED certification criteria and systematically applies them to all new projects.

Over the past few years, the Bank has earned several LEED certifications for its branches and corporate buildings, including the prestigious LEED Canada Existing Buildings: Operations and Maintenance (EB: O&M) Gold Certification for its head office.

Focusing on energy efficiency

As the majority of our emissions are produced through our consumption of electricity and combustible fuels, energy efficiency is a priority for us. The Bank is in fact recognized for its leadership in this area. Its exceptional performance notably earned it membership in Hydro-Québec’s Energy Savers’ Circle in 2015. One of the most promising energy-saving measures is an innovative web-controlled remote interface for managing energy use in more than 100 branches.

The concept is quite simple and consists in remotely controlling heating, cooling and ventilation to optimize energy consumption in our buildings. This system saves the Bank millions of kilowatt hours of electricity and thousands of cubic metres of natural gas annually. This centralized remote control infrastructure has enabled us to take part in Hydro-Québec’s Demand Response program for reducing power demand during winter peak times.

In order to ensure sustained energy savings, a continuous commissioning process was also implemented concurrently. Through this new approach, which takes a number of factors into account, including changes made over the life cycle of our buildings, we can continually monitor our facilities to ensure we meet our energy efficiency targets year after year.

Constantly evolving design standards

National Bank is keeping pace with best practices in workspace design. For example, many of the features evaluated as part of the WELL certification process are now integrated into the design plans to convert floors of the National Bank Tower into dynamic work environments. The WELL Building Standard, administered by the International WELL Building Institute (IWBI), recognizes built environments that promote the health and wellness of its occupants.
National Bank, partner of the Appalachian Corridor

The Bank is proud to financially support the Appalachian Corridor, the conservation organization whose mission is to protect the biodiversity and natural areas in the Appalachian region of Southern Quebec.
ENSURING EFFECTIVE GOVERNANCE

Financial institutions play a vital role in maintaining global economic stability. Accordingly, National Bank recognizes the importance of adopting governance practices that meet the highest standards and expectations. Honesty, integrity and ethics are central to our values.

Ensuring compliance with the Code of Conduct and Ethics

We have integrated strict ethical standards and guidelines into our operations. These are set out in National Bank’s Code of Conduct and Ethics.

Introduced in 1985 and regularly reviewed, our Code defines the behaviours expected from our employees, officers and, insofar as the provisions of the Code apply to them, the members of the Board of Directors. Interns, consultants, contract workers, agents and service providers must also read the Code and pledge to follow the provisions applicable to their activities. It allows us to make sure that our standards concerning information confidentiality, conflicts of interest, information security and other aspects related to our activities are followed. A review of the Code was undertaken in 2016 to take into account tighter ethical standards and heightened regulatory expectations regarding business conduct, industry best practices and the Bank’s organizational transformation. The new version of the Code, published in 2017, is written in clear language and includes scenarios for easier understanding.

Various ongoing measures ensure that the Code is applied in a diligent and uniform manner. For instance, when they are hired, all employees are required to take a course on the ethical and behavioural standards in effect at National Bank and agree to comply with the Code. They must then renew this commitment annually. Furthermore, certain subjects addressed in the Code have been covered in monthly communications for employees in the past fiscal year to raise awareness.

Adopting leading-edge governance standards

Our governance architecture consists of clearly defined structures, policies and processes. A statement of our corporate governance practices and the mandates of the Board of Directors and its committees are available on our website. The Board keeps abreast of governance developments and draws on the best practices advocated by various experts and specialized agencies throughout the world to ensure the Bank has an optimal governance framework that reflects the business environment in which it operates.

The Board is meticulous in carrying out its mandate of overseeing the management of the Bank. In the past fiscal year, the Board’s four committees (Audit Committee, Conduct Review and Corporate Governance Committee, Human Resources Committee and Risk Management Committee) addressed a number of issues that fall under their respective purviews, including cyber risk management, and worked on making further improvements to the Bank’s governance practices. The Board also examined a number of files, including new initiatives to generate increased revenues outside Canada.
Meeting applicable requirements

In addition to carrying out its mandate, the Board pays close attention to changes made in the financial industry and carefully monitors developments affecting the Bank’s standing policies, practices and systems.

Accordingly, National Bank further improved its risk disclosure in its Annual Report to satisfy the 32 recommendations made in October 2012 by the Enhanced Disclosure Task Force (EDTF) created by the Financial Stability Board (FSB). The Bank spares no effort to ensure overall compliance with these recommendations and will continue improving its risk disclosure in accordance with best practices. Other such changes are also underway to comply with Basel III, which is being phased in gradually in Canada until the fourth quarter of 2018. This international agreement is intended to make the global banking system more resilient and maintain confidence in the markets. Further information is provided on pages 45, 46, 73 and 75 of the 2017 Annual Report of the Bank.

Fostering dialogue

Sound governance means being open to diverse points of view and opinions. National Bank has therefore implemented methods for its shareholders, clients and others to raise matters they deem noteworthy with Board members.

For example, in order to encourage this dialogue, the letter to shareholders in the Bank’s Management Proxy Circular sets out the Bank’s approach to executive compensation. Moreover, the Board once again submitted its executive compensation approach to an advisory vote by shareholders. At the Bank’s Annual Meeting of Shareholders on April 21, 2017, 91.66% of shareholders voted in favour of the approach proposed by the Bank’s Board of Directors.

Shareholders, clients and others can also send us their comments or questions by mail, by email or through our Investor Relations Department, or submit them in person at the annual meeting of shareholders.

Similarly, we seek to promote discussions with clients, employees and suppliers, as well as interest groups and associations we work with, and facilitate access to high-quality information on the Bank, in keeping with applicable legislation.

Striving for diversity on the Board

The Board believes that diversity among its members enriches discussion and recognizes the value of increasing the number of women directors. It therefore adopted a diversity statement in 2013 that underscores the importance of having diversified representation among its directors to better reflect the diverse make-up of the Bank’s clients, employees and shareholders. The statement provides that the Bank’s Board of Directors must strive for parity between men and women and specifies that, to meet this objective, it aims to have women nominees for half of all directorships that become vacant in the future. As at October 31, 2017, the Bank’s Board of Directors was one of the most inclusive among major Canadian public corporations.

National Bank also continues to support Catalyst’s call to action for Canadian corporations to increase the overall proportion of board seats held by women. In 2017, Women in Governance recognized the Bank’s efforts to support the advancement of women by awarding it Parity Certified Gold honours, an innovative standard intended to help Canadian and Quebec-based companies increase the representation of women in senior management positions.

The independence of Board members is another prime consideration for the Bank. Of the 13 directors serving on the Board as at October 31, 2017, 12 are independent, including the Chairman of the Board and the members of each of the Board’s committees.

The Board is also working on succession planning to ensure its continuity and enhance its diversity. It keeps an up-to-date list of qualified male and female candidates who can enrich its deliberations and strengthen its ability to advise management.

This 2017 Social Responsibility Report is published by National Bank of Canada in accordance with the Public Accountability Statements Regulations adopted in 2002 by the federal government (Bank Act). It complements National Bank’s Annual Report and Management Proxy Circular, and provides an overview of our activities during the year in support of all our stakeholders.

The information presented encompasses relevant activities related to National Bank and its main subsidiaries (listed on page 27) without specific limitations. The Social Responsibility Report is prepared by the Public Affairs team with the contribution of dozens of experts, then reviewed and approved by members of Management in the organization’s many different sectors.

Our reporting is based on the main social, environmental and governance performance indicators of the most widely recognized accountability frameworks.

The Social Responsibility Report is part of the Bank’s ongoing dialogue with its various stakeholders, including clients, employees, community partners, shareholders, suppliers, interest groups and regulatory authorities. We engage our stakeholders primarily on the basis of communities of interest and communities of purpose both in a business context and to contribute to socioeconomic development. These interactions are an important tool for assessing and mitigating the risks related to our activities, particularly as they enable us to conduct various impact analyses.

Unless otherwise indicated, the information presented refers to fiscal 2017 (November 1, 2016, to October 31, 2017) and is subsequent to the public accountability statement for fiscal 2016, published in March 2017. None of the information contained in the report was materially changed or restated during 2017.

This report is available at any National Bank branch or by calling 514-394-5555 or 1-888-4-TelNat. It may also be consulted in its entirety at nbc.ca/socialresponsibility.

Fighting money laundering and terrorist financing

The methods and techniques used by criminal organizations to launder money and finance terrorist activities have become increasingly sophisticated over the years.

Wanting not only to comply with legal and regulatory requirements but also to play an active role in the fight against these crimes, the Bank continues to implement measures to prevent money laundering and terrorist financing.

It has put in place an anti-money laundering/anti-terrorist financing program that includes policies, procedures, a continuous training program and a control framework for identifying clients, record-keeping, assessing inherent risks, ongoing monitoring of business relations and reporting obligations.

The Risk Management Committee oversees the application of this program on behalf of the Bank’s Board of Directors.
