Management Discussion of Fund Performance

Investment Objective and Strategies

The NBI International Equity Index Fund's investment objective is to ensure long-term capital growth by replicating the performance of the Morningstar® Developed Markets ex-North America Large Cap Index, an index of large-capitalization companies located in those markets.

The portfolio manager follows a passive investment strategy designed to replicate the performance of the Morningstar® Developed Markets ex-North America Large Cap Index.

Risks

The global investment risk of the Fund remains as described in the simplified prospectus or any amendments thereto and Fund Facts.

Results of Operations

For the twelve-month period ended December 31, 2019, the NBI International Equity Index Fund's Series O units returned 14.42% compared to 13.12% for the Fund's benchmark, the Morningstar® Developed Markets ex-North America Large Cap Index™. Unlike the benchmark, the Fund's performance is calculated after fees and expenses.

The Fund's net asset value dropped by 68.30% over the period, from $150.54 million as at December 31, 2018 to $47.73 million as at December 31, 2019.

The decline stemmed mainly from withdrawals in the Fund by other NBI Funds.

Much like markets further west, 2019 was a good year for international markets, where all sectors had a positive performance (with the exception of the Energy sector). Businesses represented in the MSCI EAFE index posted gains in 2019. Like the rest of the world's markets, the Information Technology sector was the main contributor to performance. From a geographic perspective, Italy was the best performer while Hong Kong underperformed.

Nevertheless, the economy continues to suffer through its worst recession since 2008. After the government of Hong Kong tried to pass a controversial bill that would have allowed extradition of fugitives to mainland China, protests began in June. Even though Hong Kong's leader Carrie Lam agreed to fully withdraw the bill, it was too late as peaceful protests descended into violent clashes with police and vandalism, sending investors to the exits.

Given this context, the Fund outperformed its benchmark. This Fund seeks to track the performance of its benchmark through investments in its constituents. The discrepancy between the Fund's return and its benchmark is primarily due to tracking errors.

Recent Developments

The global economy could find its footing and reaccelerate in a synchronous manner. The U.S. could lead the global charge as consumption remains the main driver of growth, though it could moderate due to limited spare capacity in these later stages of the cycle. Healthy demand and receding North American trade tensions could buoy the Canadian economy and help to facilitate the rotation towards exports and business investment.

Looking abroad, transitory factors that were exacerbated by trade tensions could dissipate and both the European and Japanese economies could recalibrate. The Chinese economy could stabilize thanks to numerous monetary and fiscal stimulus measures, thereby enhancing the global outlook.

This environment of moderate growth could keep inflation stable, which could allow the major central banks to maintain stimulative policies. These measures could nurture growth and extend the economic cycle. This backdrop could bode well for equities and commodities at the expense of fixed income and the U.S. dollar.

On April 30, 2019, the Fund's independent review committee (the "IRC") was reduced to three members when André Godbout resigned as an IRC member. On May 22, 2019, the Fund's IRC was increased to five members when Norman Turnbull and Robert Martin were appointed as IRC members.

The administration fees are equal to a specified percentage of the net asset value of each series of the Fund, calculated and paid in the same manner as the Fund's management fees. The variable operating expenses payable by the Manager include, but are not limited to: transfer agency and recordkeeping costs; custodial costs; accounting and valuation fees; audit fees and legal fees; costs of preparing and distributing financial reports, simplified prospectuses, annual information forms, Fund Facts, continuous disclosure material and other securityholder communications; and costs of trustee services relating to registered tax plans, as applicable.

- ⁽¹⁾ This information is derived from the Fund's Annual Audited Financial Statements. The net assets per unit presented in the financial statements might differ from the net asset value calculated for fund pricing purposes. The differences are explained in the notes to the financial statements.
- ⁽²⁾ Net assets and distributions are based on the actual number of units outstanding at the relevant time. The increase or decrease from operations is based on the average number of units outstanding over the accounting period.
- ⁽³⁾ Distributions were paid in cash or reinvested in additional units of the Fund, or both.
- ⁽⁴⁾ The net assets are calculated in accordance with IFRS.
- ⁽⁵⁾ This information is provided as at the last day of the accounting period shown.
- ⁽⁶⁾ Management expense ratio is based on total expenses including sales taxes for the accounting period indicated (excluding commission, other portfolio transaction costs and withholding taxes) and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net value during the accounting period.
- ⁽⁷⁾ The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the accounting period. The trading expense ratio includes, if necessary, the trading expenses from its underlying funds, as described in Article 15.2 of Regulation 81-106.
- ⁽⁸⁾ The Fund's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the Fund portfolio's manager manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the accounting period. The higher a Fund's portfolio turnover rate in an accounting period, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund in the accounting period, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the accounting period. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high turnover rate and the performance of a Fund.
