Management Discussion of Fund Performance

Investment Objective and Strategies

The NBI SmartData U.S. Equity Fund's investment objective is to provide long-term capital growth. This Fund invests directly, or through investments in securities of other mutual funds, in a portfolio mainly composed of equities of U.S. companies.

The portfolio sub-advisor analyzes equities using a quantitative selection process based on an analysis of various financial ratios recognized in the market. Following a comparison of the different ratios, the securities with the best overall rating are selected. The final selection of securities, as well as their weight within the portfolio, is determined so as to obtain a portfolio diversified by market sector. The Fund may invest in small, mid and large companies.

Risks

The global investment risk of the Fund remains as described in the simplified prospectus or any amendments thereto and Fund Facts.

Results of Operations

For the twelve-month period ended December 31, 2020, the NBI SmartData U.S. Equity Fund's Investor Series units returned 13.88% compared to 16.32% for the Fund's benchmark, the S&P 500 Index (CAD). Unlike the benchmark, the Fund's performance is calculated after fees and expenses. Please see the Past Performance section for the the returns of all of the Fund's series, which may vary mainly because of fees and expenses.

Certain series of the Fund, as applicable, may make distributions at a rate determined by the manager. This rate may change from time to time. If the aggregate amount of distributions in such series exceeds the portion of net income and net realized capital gains allocated to such series, the excess will constitute a return of capital. The manager does not believe that the return of capital distributions made by such series of the Fund have a meaningful impact on the Fund's ability to implement its investment strategy or to fulfill its investment objective.

The Fund's net asset value dropped by 11.13% over the period, from $1.172 billion as at December 31, 2019 to $1.042 billion as at December 31, 2020. The decline stemmed mainly from net redemptions by unitholders of the Fund.

After a start marked by the emergence of a global pandemic and the fastest stock market plunge in history, 2020 ended with a third consecutive quarter of strong gains for risk assets. Overall, these twelve months have witnessed extreme variations between asset classes - especially in the first quarter. Nonetheless, both the stock and bond markets generally ended 2020 in positive territory, as lower interest rates led to significant gains for fixed income securities while supporting the economic and stock market recovery.

Within equity regions, divergences were also quite spectacular, with the U.S. stock market dominating its peers throughout the first three quarters of the year thanks to its heavy allocation to more defensive sectors. That said, emerging markets rallied strongly later in 2020, lifted by a weaker U.S. dollar and the spectacular performance of Asian countries, most of which have managed to quickly contain the pandemic.

In this context, U.S. equities figured among the best performers worldwide thanks to the Information Technology and Consumer Discretionary sectors, which that gained over 40% and 30% respectively whereas the Energy sector suffered and lost more than 30% over the year.

In such circumstances, the Fund underperformed its benchmark in 2020. Among investment themes, the Themes and Trends related factors contributed most positively to relative returns followed by factors within the Fundamental Mispricings and High-Quality Business Models themes. Conversely, Sentiment Analysis related factors detracted from relative returns.

Among sectors, holdings within the Information Technology sector, especially an underweight position in the Semiconductors & Semiconductor Equipment industry, contributed most positively to relative returns. Conversely, holdings within the Financials sector, especially an overweight position in the Capital Markets industry, detracted the most from relative returns.

At an individual stock level, the Fund's underweight position in Exxon Mobil Corp. was among the largest positive contributors to relative returns. Meanwhile, the overweight position in TechnipFMC PLC was among the largest detractors from relative returns.

Recent Developments

Looking ahead, the portfolio manager continues to believe that cheaper stocks should outpace more expensive ones and good momentum stocks should do better than poor momentum stocks. The portfolio manager also prefers names about which fundamental research analysts are becoming more positive and companies that are believed to have sustainable earnings, strong profit margins and that use their capital to enhance shareholder value. He also prefers countries and currencies that exhibit strong economic growth, countries with favourable risk/return trade-offs and currencies that are associated with positive expected fund flows.

As such, the portfolio manager anticipates to remain fully invested and believes that the value the team adds over time will be due to stock selection, as opposed to size allocations.

On April 30, 2020, the Fund's independent review committee (the "IRC") was reduced to three members when Jacques Valotaire and Jean-François Bernier resigned as IRC members. On July 1, 2020, the Fund's IRC was increased to four members when Marie Desroches was appointed as IRC member.

⁽⁴⁾ This information is derived from the Fund's Annual Audited Financial Statements. The net assets per unit presented in the financial statements might differ from the net asset value calculated for fund pricing purposes. The differences are explained in the notes to the financial statements.

⁽²⁾ Net assets and distributions are based on the actual number of units outstanding at the relevant time. The increase or decrease from operations is based on the average number of units outstanding over the accounting period.
