Management Discussion of Fund Performance

Investment Objective and Strategies

The NBI Bond Fund's investment objective is to provide a high level of income, reasonable unit price stability and sustained capital growth. The Fund invests primarily in Canadian federal and provincial bonds. These offer investors secure return with low risk.

The portfolio manager's security selection is based on an analysis of economic conditions in Canada and their impact on yields. Shorter or longer term issues will be favored depending on whether interest rates are expected to rise or fall. It is expected that investments in debt securities of foreign companies will not exceed approximately 30% of the Fund's assets.

Risks

The global investment risk of the Fund remains as described in the simplified prospectus or any amendments thereto and Fund Facts.

Results of Operations

For the twelve-month period ended December 31, 2020, the NBI Bond Fund's Investor Series units returned 8.36% compared to 8.68% for the Fund's benchmark, the FTSE Canada Universe Bond Index (CAD). Unlike the benchmark, the Fund's performance is calculated after fees and expenses. Please see the Past Performance section for the returns of all of the Fund's series, which may vary mainly because of fees and expenses.

Certain series of the Fund, as applicable, may make distributions at a rate determined by the manager. This rate may change from time to time. If the aggregate amount of distributions in such series exceeds the portion of net income and net realized capital gains allocated to such series, the excess will constitute a return of capital. The manager does not believe that the return of capital distributions made by such series of the Fund have a meaningful impact on the Fund's ability to implement its investment strategy or to fulfill its investment objective.

The Fund's net asset value rose by 20.88% over the period, from $2.063 billion as at December 31, 2019 to $2.494 billion as at December 31, 2020.

The increase stemmed mainly from investments in the Fund by other NBI Funds and market fluctuations.

Bond markets were certainly impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic but performed well amid significant monetary easing. Corporate credit spreads relative to government bonds blew out in March, as the economic shutdown threatened corporate health and liquidity seized up in the tumultuous market environment. However, they returned relatively rapidly near pre-pandemic levels, as quantitative easing programs helped support credit markets and market sentiment improved.

These developments caused the 10-year Canada bond yield to drop by 100 bps to 0.68% and the yield curve (short-term bond yields vs their long-term peers) to steepen, allowing the FTSE Canada Universe Bond Index to generate a return of 8.68% for 2020. Municipal and provincial bonds for their part, outperformed corporate and federal bonds, yielding 10.13% and 9.86% respectively, compared to 8.74% and 7.28% for the other two asset classes. However, the big winners for the period were long-term issues which outperformed those with shorter maturities.

Among corporate bonds, BBB-rated issuers also stood out higher rated issuers. On a sector basis, Infrastructure and Communications outperformed other sectors, gaining 10.44% and 10.49% respectively, while securitized securities and financial sector-related securities lagged behind with 6.53% and 6.91%.

In this context, the Fund underperformed its benchmark for the period. Being underweight federal bonds was a source of value added, as they underperformed in 2020. Taking advantage of credit spreads movements between corporate and government bonds, yield curve positioning, and higher returns of the Fund's holdings relative to the benchmark, were also positive contributors. However, the shorter duration positioning detracted value as rates declined sharply. On the sectorial front, selection in Communication Services issuers was profitable while the one in Industrial names has been detrimental. Selection in municipal bonds also detracted some value but it was offset somewhat by strong selection in the provincial space.

Recent Developments

The portfolio manager expects the global economy to continue to heal and stabilize at reasonably healthy levels, with the sheer abundance of monetary and fiscal stimulus acting as a critical source of support even as the coronavirus continues to circulate across the globe. Economic gains have been driven by the factory sector that's demonstrated a growing resilience to the pandemic, thanks to the synchronous recovery in global demand and trade flows. Factory strength has counteracted a more tepid revival in the services sector that's been plagued by the latest spike in Covid cases and the flood of new restrictions that have been aimed at the high-touch services space.

While it goes without saying that the latest virus trends are worrisome, there are reasons for optimism. The unrelenting backstop from both central banks and governments has been and will continue to be instrumental in guiding the economy back to health. Moreover, the end of the pandemic is now in sight. In November, three vaccine candidates revealed positive results in clinical trials and inoculations began in December. While widespread distribution and vaccination will take some time, there now appears to be a light at the end of the tunnel.

As such, while the recovery may be restrained in the near-term, it won't be derailed, and a profound economic revival is almost certain to unfold in the coming year. As populations get inoculated and large parts of the global economy reopen, the powerful revitalization in consumer and business confidence should unleash massive amounts of pent-up demand and set the stage for an impressive rebound in activity in the latter part of 2021.

Under these circumstances, the pace of economic activity may improve, inflation expectations should rise, the U.S. dollar could weaken, and commodity prices may rise.

During the period, the portfolio manager increased exposure to provincial and corporate bonds, while decreasing exposure to federal bonds. He reduced the weighting of AAA-rated bonds in favour of A-rated bonds. Exposure to Infrastructure and Real Estate sectors has also been raised at the expense of Industrials.

At the end of the year, the Fund had an underweight exposure to federal bonds while being overweight municipals and corporates. It had a slightly longer duration than the index, as the portfolio manager expects that bond yields may slightly decline on the short-term horizon given the potential for economic disappointment.

On April 30, 2020, the Fund's independent review committee (the "IRC") was reduced to three members when Jacques Valotaire and Jean-François Bernier resigned as IRC members. On July 1, 2020, the Fund's IRC was increased to four members when Marie Desroches was appointed as IRC member.

The administration fees are equal to a specified percentage of the net asset value of each series of the Fund, calculated and paid in the same manner as the Fund's management fees. The variable operating expenses payable by the Manager include, but are not limited to: transfer agency and recordkeeping costs; custodial costs; accounting and valuation fees; audit fees and legal fees; costs of preparing and distributing financial reports, simplified prospectuses, annual information forms, Fund Facts, continuous disclosure material and other securityholder communications; and costs of trustee services relating to registered tax plans, as applicable.

The Manager may, from time to time and at its sole discretion, decide to absorb a portion of a series' management fees, administration fees or Fund costs.

As described under the heading Management Fees, the Fund pays annual management fees to NBII as consideration for its services.

In this capacity, NBII buys, sells and swaps securities through Bank branches and the National Bank Investments Advisory Service in Canadian provinces and territories, and through external registered representatives. Fund securities are also offered by National Bank Financial Inc. (including its division National Bank Direct Brokerage), CABN Investments (a division of NBII) and other affiliated entities. Brokers may receive, depending on the distributed series, a monthly commission representing a percentage of the average daily value of the securities held by their clients.

- e) Entering into foreign exchange transactions (including both spot transactions and forward transactions) with National Bank of Canada.

The Manager has implemented policies and procedures to make sure that the conditions applicable to each of the above transactions are met. The applicable standing instructions require that these transactions be carried out in accordance with NBII policies, which specify, in particular, that investment decisions pertaining to these related party transactions must be made free from any influence by an entity related to NBII and without taking into account any consideration relevant to an entity related to NBII. Furthermore, the investment decisions must represent the business judgment of the securities advisor, uninfluenced by considerations other than the best interest of the Fund and must achieve a fair and reasonable result for the Fund.

Registered Plan Trust Services

NTC receives a fixed amount per registered account for services provided as trustee for registered plans.

Administrative and Operating Services

The provision of certain services was delegated by the Fund Manager, NBII, to National Bank Trust Inc. ("NBT"), a wholly-owned indirect subsidiary of the Bank. These include accounting, reporting and portfolio valuation services. The fees incurred for these services are paid to NBT by the Fund manager.

The Fund pays annual management fees to the Fund manager for its management services. The fees are calculated based on a percentage of the Fund's daily net asset value before applicable taxes and are paid on a monthly basis. A portion of the management fees paid by the Fund covers maximum annual trailer fees and sales commissions paid to brokers. The remainder of the management fees primarily covers investment management and general administration services. The breakdown of major services provided in consideration of the management fees, expressed as an approximate percentage of the management fees is as follows:

⁽²⁾ Net assets and distributions are based on the actual number of units outstanding at the relevant time. The increase or decrease from operations is based on the average number of units outstanding over the accounting period.
