Management Discussion of Fund Performance

Investment Objective and Strategies

The NBI Innovators Fund aims to aggressively seek capital appreciation for investors over the long term (greater than five years) primarily by investing in global companies whose activities are partially focused on scientific and technological research.

The portfolio sub-advisor uses a bottom-up investment approach to identify high conviction ideas with strong fundamentals at reasonably attractive valuations. The portfolio sub-advisor identifies global companies whose activities are partially focused on scientific and technological research and are operated by skilled management teams who drive innovation and deliver differentiated products and services by effectively deploying capital into research and development (R&D) and capital expenditures.

Risks

The global investment risk of the Fund remains as described in the simplified prospectus or any amendments thereto and Fund Facts.

Results of Operations

For the twelve-month period ended December 31, 2022, the NBI Innovators Fund's Investor Series units returned -12.89% compared to -13.65% for the Fund's benchmark, the Morningstar® U.S. Large-Mid Index™. Unlike the indices, the Fund's performance is calculated after fees and expenses. Please see the Past Performance section for the returns of all of the Fund's series, which may vary mainly because of fees and expenses.

The Fund's net asset value dropped by 16.47% over the period, from $165.15 million as at December 31, 2021 to $137.95 million as at December 31, 2022.

The decline stemmed mainly from market fluctuations.

Russian invasion of Ukraine, record inflation, potential recession on the horizon; it's fair to say that 2022 has proven to be challenging on many fronts. For investors, this context has resulted in declines for stocks and bonds in the first half of the year, followed by six months of ups and downs with no clear direction.

In sum, global equities (-12.0% for the MSCI World CAD) have performed similarly to traditional Canadian bonds (-11.7% for the FTSE Canada Universe) in 2022, although for fixed income, this represents their worst annual performance in history. In terms of leadership, Canadian equities (-5.8% for the S&P/TSX) did significantly better than their peers, supported in part by generally high commodity prices. On the other hand, the environment was more difficult in emerging markets (-19.7% for the MSCI EM Index in USD), held back by slowing global growth, containment in China, a strong U.S. dollar and increasingly restrictive monetary policies.

Under these circumstances, the Fund outperformed its benchmark.

The MSCI World IT and MSCI World Communication Services sectors suffered a heavy toll from the tightening monetary conditions in the first semester given both sectors are traditionally sensitive to interest rates moves.

The strategy outperformed its benchmark for the year as a systematic bias toward low volatile/high quality names proved to be a good downside mitigator.

Recent Developments

2023 should see a sustained slowdown in inflationary pressures, prompting central banks to pause their interest rate hike cycle by the second quarter. Meanwhile, growth figures are likely to begin to slow further as the lagged effects of the large rate hikes work their way through the real economy. With this environment comes significant risks of recession, which in turn could ultimately force central banks to set the stage for potential interest rate cuts later in the year.

This scenario comes with a level of uncertainty that remains unusually high. For instance, a much faster-than-expected slowdown in inflation would represent the most optimistic scenario, provided that it prompts central banks to stop—and even reverse—their rate hike cycle earlier than expected, thereby reducing the likelihood of a recession. That said, an important risk factor remains excessive monetary tightening by a Federal Reserve that cannot afford to underestimate once again the persistence of inflationary pressures. One thing is certain: an important success factor in 2023 will be the ability to remain nimble in a constantly changing environment.

On April 30, 2022, the Fund's independent review committee (the "IRC") was reduced to three members when Robert Martin resigned as IRC member. On May 1, 2022, the Fund's IRC was increased to four members when Line Deslandes was appointed as IRC member. However, on September 30, 2022, the Fund's IRC was reduced to three members when Line Deslandes resigned as IRC member.

On May 20, 2022, NBI discontinued the purchase offering of deferred sales charge and low sales charge purchase options for all new investments, including purchases made through systematic plans in all Canadian jurisdictions. Investors who purchased units under these sales charge options will continue to be subject to the redemption fee schedules under which they were purchased.

On June 17, 2022, National Bank Trust Inc. replaced Fiera Capital Corporation as portfolio manager of the fund, the latter which became the portfolio sub-advisor.

On or about November 30, 2022, J.P. Morgan Investment Management Inc. replaced Fiera Capital Corporation as portfolio sub-advisor of the fund.

Effective on or about November 30, 2022, the Fund was renamed NBI Innovators Fund.

The administration fees are equal to a specified percentage of the net asset value of each series of the Fund, calculated and paid in the same manner as the Fund's management fees. The variable operating expenses payable by the Manager include, but are not limited to: transfer agency and recordkeeping costs; custodial costs; accounting and valuation fees; audit fees and legal fees; costs of preparing and distributing financial reports, simplified prospectuses, annual information forms, Fund Facts, continuous disclosure material and other securityholder communications; and costs of trustee services relating to registered tax plans, as applicable.

These include accounting, reporting and portfolio valuation services. The fees incurred for these services are paid to NBT by the Fund manager.

Past performance of a series of a Fund does not necessarily indicate how it will perform in the future.

Annual Returns

The bar charts indicate the performance for each the Fund's series in existence greater than one year during the years shown, and illustrate how the performance has changed from year to year. They show, in percentage terms, how much an investment made on January 1 (or made commencing from the start of the series) would have grown or decreased by December 31 of that year, in the case of the Annual management report of fund performance, or by June 30, in the case of the Interim management report of fund performance.

- ⁽¹⁾ This information is derived from the Fund's Annual Audited Financial Statements. The net assets per unit presented in the financial statements might differ from the net asset value calculated for fund pricing purposes. The differences are explained in the notes to the financial statements.
- ⁽²⁾ Net assets and distributions are based on the actual number of units outstanding at the relevant time. The increase or decrease from operations is based on the average number of units outstanding over the accounting period.
- ⁽³⁾ Distributions were paid in cash or reinvested in additional units of the Fund, or both.
- ⁽⁴⁾ The net assets are calculated in accordance with IFRS.
- ⁽⁵⁾ This information is provided as at the last day of the accounting period shown.
- ⁽⁶⁾ Management expense ratio is based on total expenses including sales taxes for the accounting period indicated (excluding commission, other portfolio transaction costs and withholding taxes) and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net value during the accounting period.
- ⁽⁷⁾ The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the accounting period. The trading expense ratio includes, if necessary, the trading expenses from its underlying funds, as described in Article 15.2 of Regulation 81-106. The trading expense ratio history has been adjusted to include the trading expenses from its underlying funds. The calculation method described above has been used.
- ⁽⁸⁾ The Fund's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the Fund portfolio's manager manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the accounting period. The higher a Fund's portfolio turnover rate in an accounting period, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund in the accounting period, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the accounting period. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high turnover rate and the performance of a Fund.
