Management Discussion of Fund Performance

Investment Objective and Strategies

The NBI Secure Portfolio's investment objective is to ensure a high level of current income and some medium-term capital appreciation. To do this, it invests primarily in a diverse mix of mutual funds (that may include exchange-traded funds ("ETFs")) that are fixed income funds and equity funds.

The portfolio manager invests up to 100% of its net assets in mutual funds and ETFs. The portfolio may also invest in other mutual funds managed by third parties (ETFs and other types of mutual funds are collectively referred to as "Underlying Funds"). The portfolio manager applies a tactical allocation valuation process in which asset allocation and the choice of Underlying Funds are subject to frequent changes depending on economic and market conditions. When the target asset allocation and the choice of Underlying Funds are modified, the Fund is generally rebalanced based on the new selection.

Risks

The global investment risk of the Fund remains as described in the simplified prospectus or any amendments thereto and Fund Facts.

Results of Operations

For the twelve-month period ended December 31, 2020, the NBI Secure Portfolio's Investor Series units returned 7.09% compared to 9.64% for the Fund's blended benchmark. The broad-based indices, the Morningstar Canada Liquid Bond Index (CAD), the Morningstar Canada Large-Mid Index (CAD) and the Morningstar U.S. Large Cap Index™ (CAD), returned 8.79%, 5.60% and 19.35% respectively. Unlike the indices, the Fund's performance is calculated after fees and expenses. Please see the Past Performance section for the returns of all of the Fund's series, which may vary mainly because of fees and expenses.

Certain series of the Fund, as applicable, may make distributions at a rate determined by the manager. This rate may change from time to time. If the aggregate amount of distributions in such series exceeds the portion of net income and net realized capital gains allocated to such series, the excess will constitute a return of capital. The manager does not believe that the return of capital distributions made by such series of the Fund have a meaningful impact on the Fund's ability to implement its investment strategy or to fulfill its investment objective.

The Fund's net asset value rose by 45.11% over the period, from $495.96 million as at December 31, 2019 to $719.71 million as at December 31, 2020.

The net asset value increase stemmed mainly from unit purchases by investors in the Fund.

After a start marked by the emergence of a global pandemic and the fastest stock market plunge in history, 2020 ended with a third consecutive quarter of strong gains for risk assets. Overall, these twelve months have witnessed extreme variations between asset classes—especially in the first quarter. Nonetheless, both the stock and bond markets generally ended 2020 in positive territory, as lower interest rates led to significant gains for fixed income securities while supporting the economic and stock market recovery. Within equity regions, divergences were also quite spectacular, with the U.S. stock market dominating its peers throughout the first three quarters of the year thanks to its heavy allocation to more defensive sectors. That said, emerging markets rallied strongly later in 2020, lifted by a weaker U.S. dollar and the spectacular performance of Asian countries, most of which have managed to quickly contain the pandemic.

In this context, the S&P/TSX Index ended the year with a solid gain %, after having rebounded sharply from a decline of more than 20% in March. Performance in 2020 was driven mainly by the Information Technology and Materials sectors while Real estate and Energy posted the lowest returns. During the last few weeks of the year, we also witnessed a sector rotation in favor of the cyclical sectors that were lagging at the beginning of the year. Merger and acquisition activity also picked up nicely and many small caps became takeover targets from private equity funds as the abundance and low cost of capital is starting to get deployed. The IPO market also continued to shine as investor demand was impressive for newly listed companies. Meanwhile, Canadian Small Caps outperformed their large-cap peers. The Materials and Consumer Staples sectors were the best performers while the Energy and Health Care sectors lagged.

For their part, U.S. equities figured among the best performers worldwide thanks to the Information Technology and Consumer Discretionary sectors, which that gained over 40% and 30% respectively whereas the Energy sector suffered and lost more than 30% over the year.

The MSCI World Index also ended the year with strong gains. The Information Technology and Consumer Discretionary sectors outperformed other sectors, gaining around 44% and 37% respectively in USD, whereas the Energy and Real Estate sectors underperformed, losing about 30% and 4% respectively in USD.

In this an eventful year, the international markets also finished strong as the MSCI EAFE index generated robust returns for the period. The leading sectors were Information Technology and Materials. In terms of countries, South Korea was the best performer while Spain was the biggest underperformer.

For their part, the majority of fixed-income markets managed to post gains, as bond yields ended the period lower. In this tumultuous and unprecedented market environment, investment grade corporate and sovereign bonds figured among the best performing asset classes for the year, followed by emerging and high yield bonds.

In Canada, the FTSE Canada Universe Bond index posted a strong absolute return for 2020. Municipal and provincial bonds for their part, outperformed corporate and federal bonds. However, the big winners for the period were long-term issues, which outperformed those with short and medium-term maturities. Among corporate bonds, BBB-rated issuers also stood out in comparison to higher rated issuers. On a sector basis, Infrastructure and Communications outperformed other sectors while securitized securities and financial sector-related securities lagged behind.

On the preferred equity front, the launch of a new type of notes that are eligible for Tier 1 capital funding for Canadian banks, was a game changer for preferred shares and helped the asset class end the year in positive territory. As such, banks may be tempted to redeem some of their expensive preferred shares to launch more Limited Recourse Capital Notes (LRCNs), at a cheaper cost in the next quarters. This could bring a constant bid for preferred shares if investors need to replace them. If the demand is higher than the volume of new preferred shares issues, it may help support the market too. These factors combined with the strong credit tone and more stable interest rates during the second half of the year were also beneficial for this asset class.

Under these circumstances, the Fund underperformed its blended benchmark for the period. Among the different asset classes held in the Fund, equities outperformed fixed income assets for the period, Emerging, International and U.S. equities leading the way. Investment Grade fixed income assets for their part ended the year with higher returns than high yield bonds and preferred equities.

However, by analyzing the attribution of performance, the Funds that benefited the most to the overall portfolio's performance were the NBI Bond Fund, the NBI Diversified Emerging Markets Equity Fund and the Purpose Structured Equity Yield Portfolio. Conversely, the NBI High Yield Bond Fund and the NBI Preferred Equity Fund have detracted some value.

Recent Developments

The management team expects the new business cycle to carry on, strengthened by the gradual inoculation of the world's population and supported by monetary conditions arguably more accommodative than ever before. It is undeniable that growth will slow down early in the year, whereas a considerable increase in the number of COVID-19 cases forces the maintenance of restrictive containment measures. However, the vaccination campaign should provide immunization for the vast majority of the most-at-risk population in developed countries by the end of March and takes us near herd immunity mid-year. As a result, the pace of growth is expected to accelerate starting in Q2, driven by a gradual and permanent reopening of the economy, a rise in consumer sentiment, and a recovery in the service sector. All in all, this background argues in favour of a pro-risk stance, which the team increased one step further in early December, and plan to build up gradually over the course of the year as opportunities arise. The team will, however, continue to closely monitor key risks to their baseline scenario, including the speed at which COVID-19 immunization occurs, the trajectory of inflation, and the policies put forward by the new U.S. administration.

In terms of leadership within the stock market, the team doesn't expect 2020 outperformers such as large technology companies to do poorly, but they should nonetheless yield their place at the top of the podium to stocks more exposed to global growth. Geographically, the members of the team expect emerging markets to be the main beneficiaries of a cyclical recovery environment featuring depreciation of the U.S. dollar. As for the Loonie, it is reasonable to assume that it will appreciate modestly over the next twelve months, but they continue to view the currency more as an effective diversification tool – a feature it has brilliantly demonstrated over the past year.

On April 30, 2020, the Fund's independent review committee (the "IRC") was reduced to three members when Jacques Valotaire and Jean-François Bernier resigned as IRC members. On July 1, 2020, the Fund's IRC was increased to four members when Marie Desroches was appointed as IRC member.

The administration fees are equal to a specified percentage of the net asset value of each series of the Fund, calculated and paid in the same manner as the Fund's management fees. The variable operating expenses payable by the Manager include, but are not limited to: transfer agency and recordkeeping costs; custodial costs; accounting and valuation fees; audit fees and legal fees; costs of preparing and distributing financial reports, simplified prospectuses, annual information forms, Fund Facts, continuous disclosure material and other securityholder communications; and costs of trustee services relating to registered tax plans, as applicable.

The Manager may, from time to time and at its sole discretion, decide to absorb a portion of a series' management fees, administration fees or Fund costs.

As described under the heading Management Fees, the Fund pays annual management fees to NBII as consideration for its services.

Fund securities are also offered by National Bank Financial Inc. (including its division National Bank Direct Brokerage), CABN Investments (a division of NBII) and other affiliated entities. Brokers may receive, depending on the distributed series, a monthly commission representing a percentage of the average daily value of the securities held by their clients.

Registered Plan Trust Services

NTC receives a fixed amount per registered account for services provided as trustee for registered plans.

Administrative and Operating Services

The provision of certain services was delegated by the Fund Manager, NBII, to National Bank Trust Inc. ("NBT"), a wholly-owned indirect subsidiary of the Bank. These include accounting, reporting and portfolio valuation services. The fees incurred for these services are paid to NBT by the Fund manager.

Management Fees

The Fund pays annual management fees to the Fund manager for its management services. The fees are calculated based on a percentage of the Fund's daily net asset value before applicable taxes and are paid on a monthly basis. A portion of the management fees paid by the Fund covers maximum annual trailer fees and sales commissions paid to brokers. The remainder of the management fees primarily covers investment management and general administration services. The breakdown of major services provided in consideration of the management fees, expressed as an approximate percentage of the management fees is as follows:

- ⁽¹⁾ This information is derived from the Fund's Annual Audited Financial Statements. The net assets per unit presented in the financial statements might differ from the net asset value calculated for fund pricing purposes. The differences are explained in the notes to the financial statements.
- ⁽²⁾ Net assets and distributions are based on the actual number of units outstanding at the relevant time. The increase or decrease from operations is based on the average number of units outstanding over the accounting period.
- ⁽³⁾ Distributions were paid in cash or reinvested in additional units of the Fund, or both.
- ⁽⁴⁾ The net assets are calculated in accordance with IFRS.
- ⁽⁵⁾ This information is provided as at the last day of the accounting period shown.
- ⁽⁶⁾ Management expense ratio is based on total expenses including sales taxes for the accounting period indicated (excluding commission, other portfolio transaction costs and withholding taxes) and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net value during the accounting period.
- ⁽⁷⁾ The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the accounting period. The trading expense ratio includes, if necessary, the trading expenses from its underlying funds, as described in Article 15.2 of Regulation 81-106.
- ⁽⁸⁾ The Fund's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the Fund portfolio's manager manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the accounting period. The higher a Fund's portfolio turnover rate in an accounting period, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund in the accounting period, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the accounting period. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high turnover rate and the performance of a Fund.
