Management Discussion of Fund Performance

Investment Objective and Strategies

The NBI Presumed Sound Investments Fund's investment objective is to provide current income while focusing on capital preservation and purchasing power, yet remaining an investment that is presumed sound within the meaning of the Civil Code of Québec. The Fund invests directly, or through investments in securities of other mutual funds (that may include exchange-traded funds ("ETFs")), in a portfolio composed mainly of Canadian and foreign equity and fixed-income securities.

The portfolio manager may choose to invest up to 100% of the net assets of the Fund in the securities of mutual funds managed by the manager or third parties, including ETFs. When selecting an Underlying Fund in which to invest, the portfolio manager will ensure that the investments' status is presumed sound within the meaning of the Civil Code of Québec. The portfolio manager will consider the degree of exposure to the asset class that the Underlying Fund will provide to the Fund, the performance of the Underlying Fund, and the expenses (if any) payable by the Fund which may be associated with the investment. It is expected that investments in foreign securities will not exceed approximately 30% of the Fund's assets.

Risks

The global investment risk of the Fund remains as described in the simplified prospectus or any amendments thereto and Fund Facts.

Results of Operations

For the twelve-month period ended December 31, 2020, the NBI Presumed Sound Investments Fund's Investor Series units returned 3.97% compared to 8.29% for the Fund's blended benchmark. The broad-based indices, the Morningstar Canada Liquid Bond Index (CAD) and the Morningstar Canada Large-Mid Index (CAD), returned 8.79% and 5.60% respectively. Unlike the indices, the Fund's performance is calculated after fees and expenses. Please see the Past Performance section for the returns of all of the Fund's series, which may vary mainly because of fees and expenses.

The Fund's net asset value rose by 9.89% over the period, from $166.54 million as at December 31, 2019 to $183.01 million as at December 31, 2020.

After a start marked by the emergence of a global pandemic and the fastest stock market plunge in history, 2020 ended with a third consecutive quarter of strong gains for risk assets. Overall, these twelve months have witnessed extreme variations between asset classes—especially in the first quarter. Nonetheless, both the stock and bond markets generally ended 2020 in positive territory, as lower interest rates led to significant gains for fixed income securities while supporting the economic and stock market recovery. Within equity regions, divergences were also quite spectacular, with the U.S. stock market dominating its peers throughout the first three quarters of the year thanks to its heavy allocation to more defensive sectors. That said, emerging markets rallied strongly later in 2020, lifted by a weaker U.S. dollar and the spectacular performance of Asian countries, most of which have managed to quickly contain the pandemic.

In this context, the S&P/TSX Index ended the year with a solid gain %, after having rebounded sharply from a decline of more than 20% in March. Performance in 2020 was driven mainly by the Information Technology and Materials sectors while Real estate and Energy posted the lowest returns. During the last few weeks of the year, we also witnessed a sector rotation in favor of the cyclical sectors that were lagging at the beginning of the year. Merger and acquisition activity also picked up nicely and many small caps became takeover targets from private equity funds as the abundance and low cost of capital is starting to get deployed. The IPO market also continued to shine as investor demand was impressive for newly listed companies. Meanwhile, Canadian Small Caps outperformed their large-cap peers. The Materials and Consumer Staples sectors were the best performers while the Energy and Health Care sectors lagged.

For their part, U.S. equities figured among the best performers worldwide thanks to the Information Technology and Consumer Discretionary sectors, which that gained over 40% and 30% respectively whereas the Energy sector suffered and lost more than 30% over the year.

The MSCI World Index also ended the year with strong gains. The Information Technology and Consumer Discretionary sectors outperformed other sectors, gaining around 44% and 37% respectively in USD, whereas the Energy and Real Estate sectors underperformed, losing about 30% and 4% respectively in USD.

In this an eventful year, the international markets also finished strong as the MSCI EAFE index generated robust returns for the period. The leading sectors were Information Technology and Materials. In terms of countries, South Korea was the best performer while Spain was the biggest underperformer.

For their part, the majority of fixed-income markets managed to post gains, as bond yields ended the period lower. In this tumultuous and unprecedented market environment, investment grade corporate and sovereign bonds figured among the best performing asset classes for the year, followed by emerging and high yield bonds.

In Canada, the FTSE Canada Universe Bond index posted a strong absolute return for 2020. Municipal and provincial bonds for their part, outperformed corporate and federal bonds. However, the big winners for the period were long-term issues, which outperformed those with short and medium-term maturities. Among corporate bonds, BBB-rated issuers also stood out in comparison to higher rated issuers. On a sector basis, Infrastructure and Communications outperformed other sectors while securitized securities and financial sector-related securities lagged behind.

On the preferred equity front, the launch of a new type of notes that are eligible for Tier 1 capital funding for Canadian banks, was a game changer for preferred shares and helped the asset class end the year in positive territory. As such, banks may be tempted to redeem some of their expensive preferred shares to launch more Limited Recourse Capital Notes (LRCNs), at a cheaper cost in the next quarters. This could bring a constant bid for preferred shares if investors need to replace them. If the demand is higher than the volume of new preferred shares issues, it may help support the market too. These factors combined with the strong credit tone and more stable interest rates during the second half of the year were also beneficial for this asset class.

In this context, the Fund underperformed its blended benchmark for the period. These circumstances result mainly from the Fund's exposure to the NBI Global Real assets Income ETF and the NBI Canadian high conviction equity private portfolio which underperformed their respective benchmark. However, the NBI Liquid Alternatives ETF which benefited from market volatility and the NBI Corporate bond Fund which outperformed its benchmark index, added value for the period.

Recent Developments

The portfolio manager expects the new business cycle to carry on, strengthened by the gradual inoculation of the world's population and supported by monetary conditions arguably more accommodative than ever before. It is undeniable that growth will slow down early in the year, whereas a considerable increase in the number of COVID-19 cases forces the maintenance of restrictive containment measures. However, the vaccination campaign should provide immunization for the vast majority of the most-at-risk population in developed countries by the end of March and takes us near herd immunity mid-year. As a result, the pace of growth is expected to accelerate starting in Q2, driven by a gradual and permanent reopening of the economy, a rise in consumer sentiment, and a recovery in the service sector. All in all, this background argues in favour of a pro-risk stance, which he increased one step further in early December, and plan to build up gradually over the course of the year as opportunities arise. He will, however, continue to closely monitor key risks to our baseline scenario, including the speed at which COVID-19 immunization occurs, the trajectory of inflation, and the policies put forward by the new U.S. administration.

In terms of leadership within the stock market, he doesn't expect 2020 outperformers such as large technology companies to do poorly, but they should nonetheless yield their place at the top of the podium to stocks more exposed to global growth. Geographically, he expects emerging markets to be the main beneficiaries of a cyclical recovery environment featuring depreciation of the U.S. dollar. As for the Loonie, it is reasonable to assume that it will appreciate modestly over the next twelve months, but he continues to view the currency more as an effective diversification tool – a feature it has brilliantly demonstrated over the past year.

On April 30, 2020, the Fund's independent review committee (the "IRC") was reduced to three members when Jacques Valotaire and Jean-François Bernier resigned as IRC members. On July 1, 2020, the Fund's IRC was increased to four members when Marie Desroches was appointed as IRC member.

Past Performance

The performance of each series of the Fund is presented below and calculated as at December 31 of each year. It assumes that all distributions made in the periods shown were reinvested in additional securities and does not take into account sales, redemption charges, distributions, or optional charges that would have reduced returns. Past performance of a series of a Fund does not necessarily indicate how it will perform in the future.

⁽⁴⁾ This information is derived from the Fund's Annual Audited Financial Statements. The net assets per unit presented in the financial statements might differ from the net asset value calculated for fund pricing purposes. The differences are explained in the notes to the financial statements.

⁽²⁾ Net assets and distributions are based on the actual number of units outstanding at the relevant time. The increase or decrease from operations is based on the average number of units outstanding over the accounting period.
